

LOCAL KILN SERVICE

Get your kilns serviced by a Local, Certified, Trained & Insured Dealer/Installer.

- 1 I service most brands of kilns. I can train teachers in kiln operation and also offer clay workshops.
- 2 If you buy a kiln from me it will come with on-site training by an expert in kilns and clay.
- 3 I will safely and professionally install your new kiln. I am local, factory-certified, and insured for $3,000,000.
- 4 Any new L&L Kilns you buy from me will include our unmatched 3-year on-site warranty.

Here is what we are offering you and your school:

- 1) The widest selection of electric kilns to choose from.
- 2) As your local factory-trained expert, I will help you make the right choice. I will carefully go over your needs AT YOUR FACILITY and make sure the voltage, facilities and capacity are right BEFORE you order the kiln.
- 3) The easiest kilns to use.
- 4) The most durable kilns which will last longer than other kilns because of L&L's unique ceramic element holder system.
- 5) Safe installation of the kiln in your facility by someone who is factory-trained and factory-insured.
- 6) Complete training on how to use the kiln properly so that you and your students get the most out of your new kiln.
- 7) A free follow up visit to "check up" and to do follow-up training.
- 8) A three year on-site limited warranty. I'll fix any problems.
- 9) You'll get me, a professional potter. I can do teacher workshops and answer all your clay and glaze questions.

John Johnson and L&L Kilns Inc guarantee you will make the right choice!

I'm John Johnson, the L&L Kilns Dealer/Installer in your area. I've been working in clay over 30 years and now I own Mud Bucket Pottery, a teaching studio & gallery located in North Myrtle Beach, SC.

Buying a kiln is about a lot more than size and price. It's about understanding the teaching and creative environment. It's about being able to talk to someone that can resolve your problem - the kind of problem we've all had the day before the ware needs to be done! That's what is great about the Dealer/Installer program. Together we can determine the best kiln for your school, guarantee installation and with the full technical support of a well known national company.

I've been using L&L Kilns for years and that's why I'm so excited about the new Dealer/Installer program. No other manufacturer in the ceramic kiln industry provides factory trained, certified & insured installers, 3 year on site warranty, and on-site training by a professional potter. Regardless of your kiln requirements, L&L is the best investment you can make.
